'When these were first issued, a flood of new rockabilly classics was unleashed and they've remained classics to this day.' Mark Lamarr

In the mid-eighties, the legendary French Rock'n'Roll DJ Ding Dong was allowed access to the Sun Records vaults whereupon he unearthed countless gems, including many previously unheard and alternate versions of classic recordings. He then compiled these tracks into a series of seminal albums, and in so doing introduced a new generation of music lovers to the Sun sound and created a new wave of Rockabilly fans.

Up until now these albums have only ever been available on vinyl, original copies of which are now almost impossible to find. Now more than twenty years on, these double CD reissues will give fans the chance to hear these tracks again.

This second volume comprises the Rock Bop Boogie and Rock And Roll Pills albums and features Sun stalwarts Carl McVoy ('Tootsie'), Malcolm Yelvington ('It's Me Baby'), Barbara Pittman ('Sentimental Fool'), Jimmy Williams ('Fire Engine Red'), Dean Beard ('Rakin' And Scrapin'), Jean Chapel ('I Won't Be Rockin' Tonight'), Smokey Joe Baugh ('Hula Bop') and many more.
